KEYNOTE SPEAKERS

Marek Demčák

Marek's main job is to design systems that develop behaviors supporting the culture of continuous improvement. He coaches managers and coordinates the development of LEAN philosophy at industrial plants of the Vaillant Group in Slovakia and England. Marek, as a certified coach and consultant, is specialized in transforming organizations through individuals. He firmly believes that the wealth of an organization is hidden in the potential of its employees.

YOU SHOULD BE COACHING, THEY SAY

What is the role of a LEAN focused coach? What do they expect from you by being a coach while being a manager at the same time? The word coaching is used more and more often in the world of LEAN. I even came across the opinion that without coaching, it is not possible to implement LEAN within an organization. Do you share the same opinion? Discover what is coaching and what is not, what is LEAN focused coaching and how it looks like in practice.

Pavel Merhout

Pavel is the director of Tymphany, an innovative company that develops and manufactures audio products in professional and luxury segments.

FIND THE REAL VALUE

Pavel will talk about where the real value is created in companies and how to lead people and teams to get the most of that. He will compare the role of classical improvement, as most people know it, and the role of innovation, as it builds on.

Martin Buršák

Martin has been working in the field of human resources management for 11 years. First at Rhodia Industrial Yarns (part of Rhone Poulenc), later at the Academy of Education and then at the French company Fromageries Bel as HR Director of Central Europe.

In 2011 he became Plant director of the site in Michalovce and in 2019 he was promoted to the position of Multisite operations director.

He holds the position of Vice President of the Slovak Dairy Association.

MILAN MURCKO

YIT Slovakia has been on the Slovak market for a decade now. Over the past ten years, the company's CEO, Milan Murcko, has managed to transform a local construction firm into a construction development company, introduce Bratislava to the culture of architectural design competitions, and implement a number of truly unique projects, such as STEIN2, ZWIRN, Pradiareň, NUPPU and TAMMI, just to mention a few.

Milan Murcko and his 185 employees are trying to make their construction projects more efficient using the LEAN Construction method. Being convinced that 'good management' means 'less management' he leads his team in that direction. Milan Murcko places the cooperative potential of people above their individual qualities and views the business from a long-term perspective. Instead of measuring success through IS units or profitability, YIT Slovakia uses the Net Promoter Score (NPS) indicator designed to measure how customers are satisfied with the final product and how likely they would recommend the company to the people they know.

CASE STUDIES

Data Excellence

Working with data in manufacturing

Michal is a seasoned leader and innovator. He has been building an innovating software house for the past 20 years based on industrial democracy principles. In the last 6 years he was the main driving force behind the 3D digital twin platform, that helps companies make sense of their real time data. You might know Michal from many events he spoke on or as Industry 4.0 influencer on LinkedIn.

INFOTECH
internet & mobile solutions

Michal Ukropec

CEO at InfoTech / Industry
4.0 and digital twin evangelist

Michal will talk about data utilization and visualization. Companies already have big data and are not able to use them for better decision making, process optimization or safety improvements. He will showcase how companies can combine existing data from production, with new technologies including AI camera vision or real time location systems, to get better and faster understanding of what is happening in their factory.

Process Excellence

Production Optimization of Product Family for Daimler

Graduated on University of Technology in Brno (faculty of Mechanical Engineering). Jakub was working in ABB s.r.o. (High Voltage Division) as Production Engineer Manager and in Körber Medipak Systems Machinery s.r.o. as Operation Manager. He is currently working for Gebauer & Griller as LEAN and Continuous Improvement Engineer. His main responsibility is to optimize all production processes to improve production outputs.

Jakub Votava

Lean and CIP Engineer
Gebauer & Griller

Analysis and transformation of process from batch production to line production, technical setting and pull system implementation for Daimler production portfolio. In project were used many LEAN tools (VSM, line balancing, KANBAN etc.) to reach tact, flow and pull principles.

Process Excellence

Implementation of Continuous improvement process using the example of Medi-Globe s.r.o.

Thomas Garbe

Managing Director of Medi-Globe s.r.o.

As part of the centralization of production within the Medi-Globe Group, the first measures to improve the production processes were taken in 2016; the first step here was in particular reducing costs. A Continuous Improvement Project was started that comprised around 50 measures. The team at Medi-Globe s.r.o. created the complex system of continuous improvement process at all levels with the involvement of all employees. External training in Lean Six Sigma (Black and Green Belt) as well as internal training Yellow Belt) were implemented. In this article we would like to share with you our practical experience and to provide useful impulses to learn from our mistakes as well as successes.
